

Bunche Center Circle of Thought Presents:

JONATHAN E. COLLINS

PHD CANDIDATE IN DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

“From Politics to Protest and Social Media?
The Role of Age Cohort in Explaining Black Political Efficacy in the Dawn of the Obama Presidency”

Tuesday, May 9th, 2017

Black Forum—153 Haines Hall

NOON—1:00 PM

Jonathan E. Collins is a doctoral candidate in the Department of Political Science at UCLA, where he studies urban politics, democratic representation, and racial and ethnic politics. Collins has been a professor of Politics at Pomona College. Collins is a research fellow for the Loyola Marymount University Center for the Study of Los Angeles, as well as a survey data analyst for national public opinion polling firm, Latino Decisions. The recipient of numerous research fellowships at UCLA, Collins has published research in academic journals including the Harvard Journal of African American Policy and Local Government Studies. Collins also serves on the Hollywood Studio District Neighborhood Council, and he is an executive board member for the Black Los Angeles Young Democrats. He holds a BA in English from Morehouse College and an MA in African-American Studies from UCLA. Most recently, Collins has been awarded the Brown University Presidential Diversity Postdoctoral Fellowship, which he will begin in the fall of 2017.

The event is free. All-day parking ($12) and short-term parking are available; visit the Parking and Information kiosk on Hilgard and Westholme for more information. UCLA is a smoke-free and tobacco-free campus.