

The Ralph J. Bunche Center for African American Studies invites you to a Bunche Center vision talk for the position of Director by

Eve Dunbar
Vassar College

“Describe, Disrupt, and Produce: Collective Visioning at the Bunche Center”

Eve Dunbar is an Associate Professor in the Department of English at Vassar College. Her scholarly articles and review essays appear in African American Review, Callaloo: Art and Culture in the African Diaspora, and Journal of American History. Her more public-facing writing can be found in The Nation, Jezebel, and Colorlines, and Literary Hub. She is the author of Black Regions of the Imagination: African American Writers Between the Nation and the World.

Tuesday, April 25, 2017
1:00 p.m.
153 Haines Hall